Description of the institution - relevant planning activities

The Urban Affairs Association (UAA) is the international professional organization for urban scholars, researchers, and public service providers. The Urban Affairs Association is dedicated to creating interdisciplinary spaces for engaging in intellectual and practical discussions about urban life. Through theoretical, empirical, and action-oriented research, the UAA fosters diverse activities to understand and shape a more just and equitable urban world. Today, UAA includes almost 600 institutional, individual, and student members from colleges and universities throughout North America, Europe, Asia, South America, and Africa. UAA sponsors the Journal of Urban Affairs, a refereed journal, publishing manuscripts related to urban research and policy analysis of interest to both scholars and practitioners. Each spring, UAA holds a conference in a North American urban center. Recent conferences have taken place in Montréal, Seattle, Baltimore, Chicago, Honolulu, New Orleans, and Pittsburgh. About one-third of UAA conference attendees and members are planning faculty and/or graduate students.
